CRIMINAL CLASSES LOOT AND MURDER

Hundreds Killed and Injured in Russian Rioting---Jews Massacred Daily.

Many Shops are Burned---Loss in Odessa Uprisings Impossible to Estimate.

PEOPLE FIRING ON COSSACKS.

Odessa, Nov. 3.—Fresh disturbances are in progress. The people are firing on the Cossacks from house-tops and the military is threatening to use the machine guns now in position. Cossacks have killed and wounded seventeen students, and one staff officer was killed.

SCENES BEGGAR DESCRIPTION.

Odessa, Nov. 3.—An inferno raged throughout the night and conditions beggar description. The rioters are behaving like wild beasts and attacking on the Jews, and pillaging continue.

Troops protect only the homes of Christians, and the hospitals are inadequate. Fully five thousand have been killed and wounded.

LIBERTY OF THE PRESS FIRST.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 3.—The first act of the government under the czar's manifesto will be granting the liberty of the press, which will likely be given today. Editors will probably not be released until December 1.

CRIMINALS BREAK AT KISHINEV.

Bucharest, Nov. 3.—News from Kishinev tells of more disorders. While the thanksgiving service to celebrate the czar's manifesto was on, the criminal classes took advantage of the opportunity to pillage the homes of respectable citizens. They attacked synagogues, hospitals and shops, and many buildings were destroyed. Eight were killed and hundreds wounded.

Massacre of Jews Continues.

Odessa, Nov. 3.—The massacre of the Jews continues. They are being hunted down in the streets and killed and beaten while their shops are given over to pillage. The streets are in possession of wild, disorderly hordes of ruffians. Several bombs have been thrown.

Several Killed in Sebastopol.

Sebastopol, Russia, Nov. 3.—Six persons were killed and sixty were wounded during the rioting. All the banks, schools and stores are closed and private houses are being looted. The Black Sea squadron with Vice Admiral Bireff's pennant flying, arrived here today from the Turkish coast.

Attacked Inoffensive Jews.

Vladivostok, Russia, Nov. 3.—During the celebration of the granting of the constitution to Russia Jewish services were held to the memory of those who died for the cause of freedom. Flags of the demonstrators bore the words, "Long Live the Constitution," and "Liberty, Equality and Fraternity."

After the singing of "Marseillaise," the demonstrators marched to the prison and compelled the release of political prisoners. As the processionists were retreating through the public square they were set upon by a mob with shouts of "Kill the Jews."

The President Issues His Annual Thanksgiving Proclamation for Nov 30.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The president has issued his proclamation naming Thursday, November 30, next, as a day for Thanksgiving. The proclamation follows:

"By the President of the United States: A Proclamation."

"When nearly three centuries ago the settlers came to this country which has now become this great republic, they found not only hardship and privation, but terrible risk to their lives. In those grim years the custom grew of setting apart one day in each year for a special service of thanksgiving to the Almighty for preserving the people through the changing season. The custom has now become national and hallowed by homelike usage."

"We live in easier and more plentiful times than our forefathers, the men who with rugged strength faced the rugged days; and yet the dangers to national life are quite as great now as at any previous time in our history."

"It is eminently fitting that once a year our people should set apart a day for praise and thanksgiving to the Giver of all good, and at the same time that they express their thankfulness of the abundant mercies received, should manfully acknowledge their shortcomings and pledge themselves solemnly and in good faith to strive to overcome them."

"During the past year we have been blessed with bountiful crops. Our business prosperity has been great. No other people has ever stood on as high level of well-being as ours now stand. We are not threatened by foes from without. The foes from whom we should pray to be delivered are our own passions, appetites and follies; and against these there is always need that we should war."

"Therefore, I now set apart Thursday, the 30th day of this November, as a day of thanksgiving for the past and of prayer for the future, and on that day I ask that throughout the land the people gather in the homes and places of worship, and in rendering thanks unto the Most High for the manifold blessings of the past year, consecrate themselves to a life of cleanliness, honor and wisdom, so that this nation may do its allotted work on the earth in a manner worthy of those who founded it and of those who preserve it."

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed."

"Done at the city of Washington, this 2d day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and five and of the independence of the United States, the one hundredth and thirtieth."

PAPER PULP MILL MAY LOCATE HERE

Syndicate Sent to Buy Timber for Syndicate's Mill.

He Left Last Night Firmly Convinced That the Mill Ought to Be Right Here.

IT EMPLOYS ONE HUNDRED MEN

Paducah has a good chance to locate a paper mill employing about 100 men and consuming 150 cords of wood a day. A big St. Louis syndicate owns the mill, and sent a representative here yesterday to confer with the local lumber men about furnishing timber for the mill. He then had no thought of locating the mill here, but last night when he left he stated that he was convinced that this is the place for the pulp mill and will make an effort to convince the syndicate of it, and have it located here.

The gentleman is Mr. C. A. Dawes of St. Louis. He represents a large syndicate, and came here for a conference with the Paducah Pole and Timber company, in the Fraternity building, relative to furnishing timber to the syndicate for making pulp. Mr. Dawes has been up Tennessee river for ten days and investigated the timber on 30,000 acres of pine timber land belonging to the Paducah company.

Space is generally used now for this paper pulp, but Mr. Dawes is convinced that the pine is as good, if not better, and has practically closed negotiations with the Paducah Pole and Timber company to supply his concern with 4,500 cords of timber a month, delivered at Paducah.

When Mr. Dawes came to Paducah it was the intention of the company to locate the pulp mill at Riverport, Mo. After a talk with local timber and river men however, he was quickly convinced that Paducah is the place for the mill. The timber can be floated down the Tennessee river at less cost than it can be taken to Riverport by rail, as was first intended. It can simply be floated down here from all along the river and so impressed was Mr. Dawes with the idea that he left last night enthusiastically in favor of bringing the pulp mill to Paducah, and said he would immediately confer with the syndicate and explain the situation to them, and he thinks Paducah will get it.

The company works about 100 men and uses up 150 cords of wood a day. The Commercial club has been apprised of the opportunity to get this industry and will do all in its power to secure it.

Starts Factory in the East.

Mr. James Gruenebaum for seventeen years with Wallerstein Brothers, has resigned to locate in New York city, where he and Mr. David I. Levy, the latter son-in-law of Mr. H. Wallerstein, of Paducah, have established a factory for making ladies' and misses' skirts. Mr. Gruenebaum leaves Sunday for his new home, and will carry with him the best wishes of a host of friends. Mr. Levy has been in business at Cleveland, Ohio, and has already gone to New York and started the factory.

Removal of the Iron Furnaces.

There is again talk of the Paducah and Grand Rivers iron furnaces starting up again, but those on the inside do not expect anything to come of it. Mr. Galbraith, of St. Louis, who was here recently inspecting the Paducah furnace, and who also inspected the two at Grand Rivers, practically put a quiescence on the hopes that the furnaces would be operated again, in a statement made to a Sun reporter that the ore in this part of the country was not suitable for the furnaces, and that the furnaces as a consequence could not be profitably operated. He said he did not know whether or not the furnaces would be operated, and did not say they would not be, but if the ore is unsuitable and the furnaces could not be operated profitably no doubt they will not be operated at all.

Anxiously Waiting.

President Davidson, of the Frisco, is expected to return to St. Louis this week from a meeting of the board of directors in New York, and it is likely that a member of the Paducah Commercial club will then call on him and make inquiry relative to what the directors decided in regard to extending the Frisco to Paducah from Jopka, until Mr. Davidson returns it will be impossible to ascertain what the road is to do.

THE MEN FOUND WHO CUT UP GIRL'S BODY

Threw Cases Containing Head and Legs in First.

They Then Returned and Got the Torso—Had Been in New York
Since Sept. 22.

TWO MEN ARE UNDER ARREST.

New York, Nov. 3.—Two men were arrested here today in connection with the Boston suit case mystery. One of them, the police say, has confessed and gave the details of the disposition of the corpse girl's dismembered body.

The men arrested are William Howard and Lewis W. Crawford, the latter a son-in-law of Mrs. Dr. Bishop, who formerly conducted an office on Tremont street, Boston.

Howard, it is alleged, said he was desperately in need of money, and that when Crawford offered him $100 to assist in the job he accepted.

Crawford, according to the alleged confession told Howard that a girl had died in Dr. Bishop's hospital and the body must be disposed of. Next evening he and Crawford left the hospital, Howard carrying a small hand satchel and Crawford a suit case.

They boarded a ferry with the intention of throwing their burdens into the river but too many people were on the boat and the opportunity did not offer.

At East Boston they went ashore, and rode on a trolley car to Orient heights and returned.

Upon reaching the ferry house there were a few people in vicinity and when the boat was well out in the stream Crawford said "let her go," and Howard dropped the satchel which contained the head of the dead girl, while Crawford dropped over the stern the suit case containing the limbs.

Howard said he thought the job was done but Crawford told him there was another portion of the body to be disposed of and returned to the Tremont street hospital and got another suit case. Howard says he took the case and with Crawford drove to Chelsea ferry where they boarded the boat and when nobody was looking threw the suit case into the river.

Two days later when the newspapers reported the finding of the body they came to New York. They have been here, Howard says, since September 22.

Will Soon Have the Man.

New York, Nov. 3.—The mystery of Boston's suit case murder is rapidly clearing, and the police of Boston will arrest the person who cut up the body within the next 24 hours. Crawford and Hunt, who were arrested last night, were denied bail. Cahoon Howard, of Boston, identified the pair as those he took to the ferryboat at Boston the night the body was dumped overboard. Pawnbroker Horkman, of Boston, identified Howard as the purchaser of the suit case.

"Wild Man" Retires From the Business.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 3.—A circus "wild man" named Charles Brown, of Waycross, Ga., applied to the authorities here asking that his horns and tusks be removed. A local surgeon performed the operation and a silver plate, four inches long, shaped like the letter "H," was removed from beneath the man's scalp. Screws in this plate penetrated the scalp and attached to these screws were the "wild man's" horns. To remove the plate it was necessary to make an incision in the scalp almost from ear to ear. Two long tusks, which, by means of long screws, penetrated far into the jaw, were also removed.

OFFICIAL CONFIRMATION OF KILLING OF MISSIONARIES.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—Minister Rockhill, of Pekin, has officially informed the government of the killing of missionaries at Luchow, and states that the emperor has issued an edict to confer exemplary punishment on the perpetrators, and directing that compensation be made and adequate protection afforded all missions. He states that the attack resulted from the refusal of missionaries to permit the firing of cannon by the villagers during a festival.

CHINESE OFFICIAL

Here to Investigate Our Government and Constitution.

New York, Nov. 3.—Yin Chuan Chang, a member of the Chinese commission which is to draft a constitution for the Chinese Empire, arrived here today on the steamer Graf Waldersee, from Hamburg. He is a secretary of the branch of this commission, which will study the constitution of the United States. Prince Tsai Tsche is the head of this section of the constitutional commission. The other sections will investigate simultaneously the constitutions of foreign countries.

Yin Chuan Chang said today, "When these special ambassadors have finished their work and submitted the draft of the constitution for China to the emperor, China will step out of the ranks of absolute monarchies and enter the constitutional empire."

The Chinese constitution will embrace all of the best features of the constitutions of America, Japan, Great Britain, France, Germany and Austria. The travels of the special embassy will be ended in about eight months, after which the envoys will draw up a constitution.

Mr. Chang added that this department from ancient usages was due to the gradual spread of Japanese influence over the empire since the Japanese-Russian war. He said that Japan had urged China to modernize her laws and government, and thus form a strong alliance of the yellow races in the Far East.

$150,000 DAMAGE TO THE COOPERAGE PLANT

Destructive Fire Visited Manufacturing District---225 Men Out of Work.

Damage Fully Covered by Insurance---Will Rebuild ---Union Central Hotel Damaged.

The heading department of the Paducah Cooperage Co., said to be the biggest heading factory in the United States, burned to the ground this morning between 1 o'clock and daylight, entailing a loss estimated by men acquainted with the business at not less than $150,000 fully covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown but is supposed to have been spontaneous combustion, and the buildings were a mass of flames when the fire departments arrived. Heroic work was done by both firemen and volunteers, but that portion of the plant was doomed.

The plant which burned was that in which heading was made. It consisted of a turning room where the rough material is turned into shape and finished, and the dry kiln. The main building, the turning and finishing rooms, was brick, size 100x110, and the dry kiln of wood, size 100x125 feet. The buildings were narrowly separated and the boiler rooms were about twenty feet from the main buildings, and when the fire was discovered the dry kiln was a mass of flames. The blaze was first seen about 1:15 o'clock when Night Watchman George Markham was making his rounds. He turned in an alarm and the fire departments made an excellent run. Streams were soon playing on all sides of the buildings, but served only to prevent a spread. No amount of water could have saved the building so great a headway had been gained.

The dry kiln was filled with material, about 50 carloads of heading being stored away for drying. Only one car had been loaded and this was shoved away from the building before it caught. Another car, an empty one, caught fire and was burned so badly that it will have to be rebuilt. This was the only loss the railroad company will sustain.

The fire attracted hundreds to the scene and there were plenty of willing hands to aid in saving property. Many hundred stacks of material in the rough surrounded the building on the west side, but the good work of firemen and volunteers saved this from lighting.

The fire raged for hours and at noon the ruins were still burning. The big stock of heading, all thoroughly dried, made good food for the flames and it is estimated the debris will continue to burn for several days. However streams of water are constantly played on the smoldering heap to cool it off and make it possible to rebuild at once.

This, the heading department, was formerly the Kilgore plant. It was built in the fall of 1894 to replace the plant owned by Col. J. L. Kilgore which burned a few months before. Later a consolidation was effected by Messrs. J. L. Kilgore of Anderson, Ind.; J. H. Hollingshead, of Chicago; V. J. Blow, of Louisville, and J. N. McWright, of Huntington, Tenn., all owners of valuable heading and cooperage plants, three being located here, and a corporation known as the Paducah Cooperage Co. launched. This comprised the big barrel factory situated about two squares beyond the burned building on the riverside, the Kilgore plant which burned and the Blow stove factory in Littleville. Also the Hollingshead plant at Rives, Tenn., and countless sawmills scattered about the country.

No official estimate can be secured on the loss of this morning's fire, the management having no complete figures, but from persons acquainted with the building, their value, the machinery and stock, say that the loss will amount to not less than $150,000. Whatever it is the management has it fully covered by insurance.

Mr. Blaine Kilgore, superintendent of the heading factory, stated that by tomorrow definite figures would probably be given as to the loss, but today no statement would be made.

The machinery is all ruined and the walls of the brick building torn down. It will mean a complete reconstruction of the plant, and work will begin in a few days and the site cleared. It is assured that the buildings will be duplicated at once. About 225 men are out of employment today, the result of the fire. There was incessant work for the men, the plant running at all seasons and the loss of time will fall heavily on the employees.

This is the second fire the Paducah Cooperage Co. has had since the combine was formed. The first occurred in April two years ago when the saw shop, then located near the heading factory, burned. The saw room was rebuilt adjoining the barrel plant, further east.

The old Kilgore plant burned in the fall of 1894, and was replaced by the plant which was consumed last night.

It is said to be the biggest and most complete plant of its kind in the country. The loss of time will cost the company a great deal in loss of time in filling orders. The heading which burned would have stocked 50 cars and gone along way towards filling accumulated orders.

The directors of the concern are en route here now, having been telegraphed this morning, and will arrive as soon as possible. When they do a meeting will be held and plans outlined.

As the heading plant was separate from the barrel and stove plants, its burning will not affect the operation of the other departments which were working as usual this morning.

MARY COLEY WINS HER CASE
IN COURT OF APPEALS.Was Hurt in a Collision at Tennessee Street Three Years Ago—Was Returning Home.

Another McCracken county case in which heavy damages were awarded the plaintiff, was affirmed by the court of appeals today when the judgment of the McCracken circuit court in the case of Mary Coley, who was given $3,500 by a jury, was approved with interest. The total amount the company will have to pay is about $4,000.

The suit grew out of an accident at the Tennessee street crossing August 7th, 1932. Mary Coley was one of those in a wagon returning from a picnic, when a train struck the wagon and killed two, one of the dead being a sister of Mary Coley. They all resided at Tyler, where the Coley girl still lives.

The girl who today won her case in the court of appeals was badly hurt and it is said still suffers from her injuries.

Hendrick, Miller and Marble were attorneys for the plaintiff.

The husband went up higher and descended safely. It is alleged that the couple had quarreled and that the woman's death was suicide instead of accident.

Money in Timber Lands.

Fortunes have been made, (and can easily be made today,) by buying Arkansas rich river bottom land, heavily covered with timber, at a nominal price, holding the land for a few years and then selling the timber at twice the price the land and timber both cost, and then have the land cleared and sell it for five times the original purchase price and sometimes ten times the cost. We have a proposition of this kind in 1600 acres of land in Arkansas at only $3.50 per acre. One-third cash, balance 1 and 2 years, at 6 per cent. This land when cleared will rent for $5.00 per acre per year. Full particulars on request, Edgar W. Whittemore Real Estate Agency, Fraternity Building. Both phones 835.

McPHERSON'S

COMPLETE IMMUNITYSay the Packers Indicted With Beef Trust.Claim Commissioner Garfield Promised It if They Would Disclose Secrets.

MR. GARFIELD SAYS NOTHING.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Complete immunity from prosecution under the pending legislation returned by the federal grand jury several months ago, is claimed by Armour and other defendant packers and agents charged with being promoters of the so-called "Beef Trust," in an additional plea in bar, filed yesterday afternoon by Attorney Miller, the packers' representative.

The new plea sets up as facts, that when Commissioner of Corporations Garfield, of the department of commerce and labor, investigated the beef business he promised the packers that whatever testimony they gave without being under oath or whatever documentary evidence they voluntarily produced, the defendants should have the same rights, indemnities and immunities as if they had testified under oath and compulsion.

The allegation of an agreement between Garfield and the packers was a surprise to the government attorneys and it was said last night that Garfield had been asked concerning what occurred during the investigation into the beef business.

Garfield Declines to Discuss.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—Commissioner Garfield, of the bureau of incorporations, declines to discuss the plea of certain Chicago packers under indictment that the beef trust was promised immunity if they divulged facts in their business when he made the investigation.

Theatrical Notes

One of the most interesting characters in "The Winning Girl," a unique cross-country comedy with music which comes to The Kentucky on Wednesday night, is Lem Hiska. For this part, Manager Frank L. Perley has engaged Matt E. Helsey, a well-known actor of ability, who has always been closely identified with similar roles. His delineation of the "cow puncher" making his first visit to New York, is the source of much hilarious comedy.

Musical Event of Season Coming.

Manager Y. C. Alley has secured Miss Julie Foreman to star in "Cinderella" this season, and has surrounded her with the best of assistants. The cleverest of stars, four well-known comedians, three comedians, four dramatists of note and a chorus of eight pretty girls of uniform stature the company is going to a list of eighty of the leading cities. This is the first season of the company which explains why every costume, every piece of scenery and every article of stage effects are on a par with the best. Miss Foreman wears several gowns bordering on the gorgeous and extravagance in costume has helped to make her reputation. The costume worn by Miss Foreman when she meets the Prince in the grand ballroom is said to be one of the prettiest ever seen on the stage.

At The Kentucky Monday and Tuesday, with matinee Tuesday.

The Jewell Kelley Stock company is playing its first engagement at Paducah. Last night it presented "The Fatal Step" to a large and appreciative audience, decidedly the largest crowd of the season. The company is a capable one, and with Mr. Kelley and Miss Caroline Klorer in the leads the play was artistically given. The various characters were well cast and the crowd from downtown was enthusiastic. The company made a hit and will have crowded houses during its stay. Tonight the bill will be "Jesse James."

This afternoon Sunset Mines is being given at the matinee. Tomorrow afternoon Little Lord Fauntleroy will be played at the matinee and tomorrow night the play will be Nick Carter. Mr. Kelley is a talented actor and his support is fine.

It's a good thing the child doesn't know that he is father to the man, or doubtless things would take a turn.

This will confer with Mr. Hill on the question of taking Patrick's case to the supreme court of the United States, and will visit Patrick at Ossining from time to time. Mr. MINK will place unlimited funds at the disposal of Patrick, it is understood.

Patrick has but two chances now to escape the electric chair—a successful appeal to the United States supreme court and failing there, executive clemency.

Mr. MINK, mentioned above formerly lived in Paducah, and is now one of the richest men of St. Louis.

As our lease on the building which we now occupy will soon expire and the building has been leased to another company, it is imperative that we at once dispose of our stock. Though the volume of business in both the wholesale and retail departments has been tremendous during this sale we still have the largest and choicest stock of Glassware, Queensware and Bric-a-Brac in West Kentucky and we are going to make a vigorous effort to dispose of it in its entirety in the next two weeks.

This is an opportunity to buy Christmas presents at small cost which you can ill afford to miss. Our wholesale department enabled us to buy large quantities at the lowest market prices. If we used this whole paper we could not tell you of all the bargains we are offering, for every piece in the store is to be sold at exactly what it costs us.

Every day or two now we are going to offer you something at an unusually low price

CORRECT FALL ATTIRE

THE day of judgment for a suit of clothes or an overcoat is the first day a man puts it on and meets his friends. Critical eyes will examine the cut, the fit, the fabric and the appropriateness of the garment to the man wearing it. Our Canterbury Clothes always pass muster---they're right; perfect in every detail. They have the hang and dash that stamps them the moment the eye rests upon them as smart clothes. Built generously, built with snap and 'ginger, they interest men who are looking for good Suits and Overcoats at moderate prices. The Canterbury coats have the correct front, shapely lapels, snug lying collars and perfect fitting shoulders which distinguish the fashionably cut garment this season. And what is still more important they STAY that way. Priced most reasonably.

We have not confined ourselves to good clothing alone. There are other things that are necessary to man's comfort in dress, and we have them in endless variety---Neckwear, Shirts, Hosiery, and Handkerchiefs, in fact everything in haberdashery. We have an eye for everything that's new and our Haberdashery Department is never a moment behind in showing the latest ideas in men's fixings. The prices are moderate, too,---not fancy. Visit this department.

The Modern Boy

We're ready for him. Your modern boy is a boy without a boyhood---he's born man; he wants to do just what his father does; he wants to wear just what his father wears. Our new suits will fill his idea to the letter. His every-day suit, his Sunday suit, his party suit, his top coat, his hats, his furnishings---all that the little gentleman wears is here. Cut in the fashion that he likes and prices that his parents will like. Send him down.

Healthful Underwear.

We would especially recommend Dr. Jaeger's famous Underwear. It is all we claim for it, and more. For those who experience those chilly sensations when away from the fire we recommend this underwear. It is made from the best sheep's and camel's hair wool.

Gent's Warm Gloves

Nothing adds more to the appearance of a well dressed man than well fitting gloves. We have been especially careful in selecting our glove stock this season and have the best makes in undressed and dressed kids. We have the nice warm kind, too. Get a pair.

Big Trial of Mine Guards.

Morganfield, Ky., Nov. 3.--Over two prominent Sturgis citizens are in town this week in consequence of the trial of the twenty guards employed by the West Kentucky Coal company, having to appear here with all the witnesses. The case was called at 10 o'clock and both sides announced ready. There are a great many witnesses to be examined and the probability is that most of the week will be consumed in taking evidence. The Sturgis people are greatly wrought up over the matter, and owing to the trial going on here but little else is talked on the streets.

One of the four prisoners who gave the name of Tom Brown, had a card in his pocket stating that J. C. Wilson of Alton, Ill., was a member of the Bar Tenders' Union in good standing.

AN ACTOR'S SALT MINES.

Joe Jefferson's Louisiana Property Worth Nearly a Million.

New Iberia, La., Nov. 3.--The late Joseph Jefferson owned valuable salt mine properties in this section. The actor had a summer home near here, known as Jefferson's Island, and each year up to within two or three years of his death he spent several weeks at the place. The actor had fitted up the resort to his liking and comfort, giving no regard to the valuable salt deposits existing beneath his domain. He sought rest and quiet in the beautiful and poetic home, throwing business cares to the wind. The property is valued at the way from $500,000 to $700,000, and it is said that it will be developed, a company being projected to mine the salt. Burke & Burke, attorneys and executors for the estate of Mr. Jefferson, today filed a bond for $157,513 in court here for clearing up the property rights.

The Belle was one of the fastest and most secure of the towboats on the river, having been built with a steel hull, in Pittsburgh, and remodeled about five years ago by the present owners. It was thought the Belle was fire proof. Just how the fire started is a mystery. No lives were lost.

Thos. Housman, 121.
Joe McCarry, 106.

Daily Thought.

"Destiny has turned many a man down while he was waiting for something to turn up."

A LOOK AT THE BOOKS NEEDED.

The people of Paducah and McCracken county need a change, and should vote for one Tuesday. The state inspector came down here last spring, and took a look at some of the county books. He told what he found, but after the democratic primary was over and the political purposes of the expose had been accomplished, the whole thing was dropped, and the people, the real sufferers, were left to whither for satisfaction. This shows what a crowd the people are up against. It does as it pleases. If some official should misappropriate ten or a hundred thousand dollars he would go free, so far as the authorities are concerned if he "stood in" with the gang. Do the taxpayers of this county and city desire to run the risk of having raceably rampant without anyone being punished or made an example of?

What is needed is a change—new men to look at the books and manage affairs. A look at the books of the public to see how they have been kept is always beneficial. It can do no harm. It may do much good.

The republican candidates for county and city offices ask for the change. They promise economy, improvement, and better service in every public department.

In the city they promise a reduction of fifty cents on the $100 in the tax rate, something the present administration cannot do because it does not want to do it, and because its object in holding office is not to do such things. Its pensioners, who increase every year, have to live, and the people have to pay the bills. The taxpayers want what they are paying for, and expect what they are paying for, but they are not getting it. If the republican ticket is elected, they will get what they pay for. It will be a great help to the city as well as to the people. Our business men, both as individuals and as the commercial club organization, are greatly embarrassed and retarded in their work by Paducah's enormous tax rate. It is always a handicap in attempting to bring new people and new industries to the city, especially when the question is asked what benefits the city derives from the $200,000 and more collected every year in taxes. About the most appropriate observation the anxious inquirer can make, when these benefits are recounted to him, is that "it's a shame to take the money."

The people need a new deal. Next Tuesday they will have an opportunity to get it.

What are YOU going to do?

BE MEN—AND VOTE LIKE MEN.

There is food for reflection in the following from this week's Collier's Weekly, pointing out how good citizenship can triumph only by casting aside party lines where bad men are concerned, and voting for good men:

"What a pretty fix our minorities everywhere leave us in. If the prevailing party is corrupt, the minority is usually no better, and in order to improve a city it is necessary to get outside the national parties altogether. Secretary Taft has done good service in declaring that were he in Cincinnati he would vote against Boss Cox. Thus another bolt is given to party loyalty gone mad, even as Mr. Root bolted it in regard to Philadelphia. In various directions hope may be discerned that next Tuesday will give a favorable result. Rhode Island has been doing well of late and it looks as if old Dr. Garvin, that man with honesty and without eloquence, might be governor once more. The forces of improvement which are back of him are not organized, but they have the strength of moral impulse. They started a weekly paper recently, called 'The State,' and even some protected interests have rallied to the support of that paper, even while they recognized that the triumph of the doctrines preached would cut off their own special parasitism along with other forms of honest and dishonest graft. New Jersey officers at least two rather stimulating controversies. Mr. Cobey came out of his party leading strings because he would not be a boss's slave, and he won so handsily at the primaries that the boss dared not fight him openly for election. Mark Fagan, mayor of Jersey City, is a republican who has denounced his party, on the eve of battle, as representing corporate power and greed. To our friends in all parts of this country, wherever some such real issue is presented, we would urge one single duty: step the silly party label from your coat and go to the polls to vote independently like men. The time should end when thousands of intelligent human beings are willing to put their souls positively in the hands of two or three."

Paducah's city hospital is not only one of the most complete and modern in the state but it is almost self-sustaining already and is an institution of which the city may justly be proud. The city waited a good many years for it, and was able then to obtain it only after the most earnest and arduous work on part of our doctors, and a vote of the people to issue bonds for its construction. It is a place where anyone can go and not feel humiliated. It has an efficient superintendent, and a capable corps under her, and already several lives have been saved through the prompt and skillful treatment made possible by such an up-to-date institution. Riverside hospital is something to be proud of, and all Paducahans who have visited it are proud of it.

The city ought to immediately stop dirt wagons from going down Broadway. The wagons loaded with dirt and mud from the storm water sewer ditches on Jefferson street, daily trail down Broadway leaving clouds of mud all along the thoroughfare to cake up and stick to people's feet, or in dry weather to form clouds of dust, as on South Third street recently when owners of stores had to close their doors.

Those democrats who are trying to convince themselves and others that "large crowds" are bearing the democratic candidates in the county, evidently neglected to count the people in the audience, something the republicans in several of the places did to their satisfaction. The candidates had exactly thirteen at one speaking and less than twenty at another.

The News-Democrat's position is something like this: We know how bad all these fellows are, but we want you to vote for them just the same.

Col. Hendrick didn't linger long in Livingston county. It was probably too hot up there for his winter clothes.

Graft all over the country is dying hard, but it is dying dead.

"It is difficult for any correspondent to supply an adequate report of events, because it is dangerous to approach windows and it is impossible to look out. The number killed and wounded must be enormous. All foreign consulates are protected by soldiers."

Under date of Nov. 2 the correspondent goes on with a description of the imposing demonstration at the funeral of Reformer Nicholas Baumann, who was shot in the chest three days ago, and that of a woman shot by police. Two enormous processions joined at the university and it is estimated nearly 300,000 persons were in line with red flags and banners flying. A choir of 300 trained singers chanted a requiem while thousands in the procession sang Marie Sellaise.

The immense size of the procession caused slow progress, and when darkness had fallen the cemetery was four miles distant. Hence the ceremony promised to last far into the night.

The coffins were borne shoulder high. They were entirely draped with red cloth and most of those who marched wore red ribbons.

VERY SENSATIONAL
IS THE EVIDENCE

Widow of Murdered Man Testifies in Big Damage Suit.

The Defendant Today Took the Stand and Denied That He Knew of the Killing.

NEWS OF OTHER COURTS

Circuit Court.

The case of Mrs. M. E. Head, widow of Pink Head, against Cheatham Hodge for $20,000 damages for the loss of her husband's life, is attracting a great deal of attention because of the sensational features of the case.

Mrs. Head claims that Hodge is responsible for her husband's death; that he killed him or had it done. She was placed on the witness stand yesterday afternoon soon after the case first went to trial.

Mrs. Head testified that her husband was killed while on his back porch on his farm near Clinton, Hickman county, Ky., on the night of September 28, 1904, about 7 o'clock. She stated two shots were fired and that her husband received the full effects of one. She claims that she saw a man whose face looked familiar and she identified him as Hodge. He had a gun in his hand.

Hodge was placed on the stand this morning and denied that he did the shooting or knew anything about it, claiming to have been at the house of Arthur Willie, a hand on his farm. Hodge denied knowing anything about the shooting and when Willie was introduced corroborated Hodge, is also did Garlin Hoskins, who passed Hodge and Willie on route home while driving on the road. Hoskins swore that he heard the shots, seven or eight in number, after he passed Hodge and Willie and that this was only a few minutes.

There are many witnesses to be introduced but Judge Reed intends to finish the case by tomorrow.

The troubles of Head and Hodge before the killing had been of interest in their neighborhood. Hodge had lost a barn by fire and he and his brother Bob Hodge started out to find the fire brand, they allege. It is said they suspected or accused Head of burning the barn. They laid in wait one night and Bob Hodge, changing his position, came towards Cheatham Hodge who shot and killed him, thinking he was someone else. The matter was never taken up in the grand jury, the examining court declaring it unintentional. Several days after this Head was killed.

The head faction tell a different story, however. They claim that at the time Bob Hodge was killed, he and his brother, Cheat Hodge, were hanging about Head's home, waiting to assassinate Head for alleged barn burning and vandalism. They had a chicken with them, it is alleged, that they made snipe, intending to shoot Head when he came out to ascertain what was the matter. Head was suspicious and remained in. The chicken got away, it is alleged by some of the head faction, and Bob Hodge started after it and chased it around the house. As he came near his brother, Cheat Hodge, they alleged, the latter mistook him for Head and shot him, then taking his body over from the head to the Hodge farm.

The other side claims that the brothers were on their own farm, watching for the incendiary when Bob Hodge was mistaken for the culprit and shot. The plaintiffs allege that just before the assassination of Pink Head, Cheat Hodge made the assertion that Head was indirectly to blame for the death of his Hodge's brother, and that he must pay the penalty for it. This is supposed to have been the main motive for the assassination, but no proof. It is said, has been offered to substantiate it, or show that Hodge made any such assertion.

This afternoon more witnesses were heard in the case. Orlando Baker, white, said that Hodge told him he, Hodge, was responsible for Head's death, and that if he ever opened his mouth, would treat him the same way. Baker had a witness to substantiate his testimony.

The questions involved in the suit of the city against Leni Jones for forfeiture of his $1,000 bond for violating the Sabbath, have been submitted to Judge Reed by agreement and the case will not have to go to the jury.

The case of Willie Temple against Ben Logan was transferred to the equity docket and continued.

In the case of Lena Mankin against Mary E. Allison a motion with reasons for a new trial was filed.

Police Court.

Police court was a small affair this morning, there being but four cases on the docket.

Hewlett Jones was charged with obtaining money by false pretenses and also with obtaining property by false pretenses. The latter case, in which he was alleged to have secured a bicycle, was filed away as the principal witness could not be found. In the former he was held to answer as he waived examination and in default of $200 bail was remanded to jail. He was accused of selling a coat that did not belong to him to Will Haynes for 35 cents.

Ed. Wilson, charged with carrying a concealed deadly weapon, was dismissed. He had a razor on his person and was going out of the city, so Judge Sanders decided to let him keep on moving.

The evidence in the case against Woods Jones and Ernest Ozant, who are accused of obtaining money by false pretenses, is all in and the court reserved its decision until tomorrow morning.

Big Tax Suit Settled.

In the back tax suit of Sheriff P. H. Bush, of Livingston county, against the Bates & Rogers Construction company for taxes on $500,000 worth of property, C. C. Grassham, attorney for the company, has settled for $52.68, which includes the costs in the suit.

The defendant built the Tennessee river bridge which is in Livingston county, where the case was tried, and, Sheriff Bush alleged that the company's machinery and other material used in the work was worth $500,000 and that the county was entitled to taxes on it. At the trial the plaintiff failed to show that the company had anything like the amount of property alleged in the petition.

Liquid Veneer is a wonder! It will make the whole interior of your house shine like new, making re-finishing or re-varnishing entirely unnecessary. Silently Clashed Hands.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 3.—George Hinkle, who shot and killed Willy Madden through mistake last week in the remarkable series of tragedies following the killing of Robert Madden by Michael Reddington, was dismissed in the city court, it being clearly shown to have been a mistake. After the trial Hinkle and Daniel Madden, the dead youth's brother, met in the court room. They silently clasped hands in token that there was no feeling between them because of the unfortunate affair.

GRADUATING CLASS

May Have Twenty Pupils in It Next Year.

The enrollment in the High school has been increased to 117 and with the addition of 19 more from the eighth grade at the middle of the year, will swell the High school to a size never before reached.

This year there will be a regular graduating class of about twenty pupils and it is more than likely a regular commencement will be held. This matter has been discussed by the teachers but nothing definitely decided on. It is expected that forms of entertainment aside from the routine of speeches, orations and essays, will be adopted, and the commencement made more entertaining by the class.

NO CROWD AT ALL

Was at Reidland, and the Candidates Did Not Speak, It Is Stated.

The Democrats have apparently gone to fabricating about their speaking. At Reidland, where it is stated in one of the papers that they spoke, it is understood they did not speak at all.

A telephone message from Reidland today said that last night the candidates assembled to speak, and only six or seven people showed up to hear them, and after they were convinced that no one else was coming, they left without speaking at all.

HOPKINSVILLE FIRE FREE

COLLEGE DORMITORY WAS LOST OF A DISASTROUS SERIES.

The Loss Is Estimated at $30,000—Fire Was Hard One to Fight.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 3.—A series of disastrous fires during the past two weeks culminated yesterday in the almost total destruction of the girls' dormitory of South Kentucky college, one of the leading educational institutions of the Christian denomination in the state. Fire was first discovered in the west wing, and the high tower on the north end acting as a fine, soon drew the blaze over the entire top of the building.

It was sometime before the fire burnt its way through to the outside but it did, and the exterior of the tower soon fell and the lower floors were a veritable furnace.

The fire department responded promptly, but the building is located on top of a very high hill and as pressure is furnished from the standpoint of the water company, which is almost on a level with the college, no appreciable effect could be produced on the flames. Citizens formed themselves into volunteer firemen, and by hard work and braving the flames and smoke, saved nearly all the furniture, the girls' trunks, etc., but numbers of the young ladies lost heavily on account of their clothing being in closets.

When the fire was first discovered the pupils were in the various class rooms and they were immediately dismissed.

The fire is supposed to have caught from a defective fine.

The boys' dormitory and all outbuildings all of which were at a distance, were saved. No fatalities have yet been reported, although several persons had narrow escapes from falling timbers.

The building was three stories high and about thirty-five pupils roomed in it. It was almost entirely gutted and the loss is estimated at $30,000, with only $4,500 insurance on the building and $3,500 on the contents.

This is the second time this college has been burned, the former building having been totally destroyed February 21, 1884. The college will be rebuilt as soon as possible.

REPORT ALL CASES.

Democrats Said to Be Buying Up Registration Certificates.

It is reported that a number of colored voters have sold registration certificates to democrats, who expect to thus prevent the owner from voting. Buying registration certificates is a serious offense, and if anyone knows of any cases of this kind, it should at once report it to the republican committee, in order that those engaged in this sort of traffic, if there be any, may be brought to justice.

NO REIMBURSEMENT.

For Kentucky for Expenses in Returning Sick State Soldiers.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—The controller of the treasury has affirmed the decision of the auditor of the war department on the claims of Kentucky for reimbursement for expenses incurred in September, 1898, in returning to the state volunteer soldiers who were sick and had been furnished by the military authorities. The claim amounted to $1,400. The auditor held that nothing was due since the acts of congress did not authorize reimbursement to a state for expenses incurred on behalf of soldiers after their muster into the service of the United States, and further, that the act of April 27, 1904, upon which the claim was based, had no application to this claim for the reason that the same had not been disallowed under other acts prior to that time.

In affirming this decision of the auditor, the controller said: "The expenses for which reimbursement is claimed were incurred after the troops were mustered into the United States service, the said claim had not been disallowed prior to April 27, 1904. The date of the act authorizing the allowance of certain expenditures incurred after muster, and the relief as to said items afforded by said act, extended only to such as had heretofore been disallowed." The same sort of decision was made in the case of Ohio, where claim amounted to $11,647.

"There we are," said as they grew up beside the entrance to the elevated.

ry to leave you this way. I'll tell you all about it later. You're a dear to help me keep my appointment."

"Seems to me you helped yourself," she cried after him as he dashed up the steps. "Come up for tea some day and tell me who the lady is."

After he had gone Miss Drew turned to her chauffeur, who was in the immediate, then she laughed unstrainedly, and the faintest shadow of a grin showed over the lady's face.

"How pardon, miss," he said, "but I'll back Mr. Brewster against four to one my day."

Half an hour later, Brewster confided the office of Messrs. Grant & Ripley, the best, eager and most useful of the big splash of mind that decorated his cheek.

"Awfully sorry to have kept you waiting," he apologized.

"Sherlock Holmes would say that you had been driving Mr. Brewster," said Mr. Ripley, shaking the young man's hand.

"It would make it, Mr. Ripley, I've been trying. What have you heard from Montana?" He could no longer check the impatient question, which came out as suddenly that the other pages laughed loudly. Brewster joined them an instant later. They told him of a half dozen telegrams responses from Montana. Lawyers in maine operations in Montana. These messages established beyond doubt the extent of James T. Seligson's wealth.
It was reported to be even greater than shown by the national figures.

"And what does Mr. Jones say?" demanded Montgomery.

"His reply was a great deal pithy. He has told me that he has thoroughly clean, and I don't see any thing left to do. It is all over the probation. I am sorry to hear you thought that he had paid the elegant charges," said Mr. Grant, smiling broadly.

"Is he rational about it?" asked Montgomery nervously.

Mr. Grant gave his partner a quick significant glance and then drew from his desk the voluminous telegram from Sverrengren Jones. It was as follows:

Oct 2
Grant & Ripley, Yonkers Building, New York:

"I am to be sole referee in this matter.
You are retained as my agent, and I report to me through you weekly. One desire of mine was to forestall your father's bestial. I shall respect that desire. Before I term ready. He was my best friend and trusted me with disposition of all his money. Still attend to it merely. He must get rid of money left to him in great time. Out of respect to memory of mine he must take no one into his confidence. Don't want world to think I was a fool. He wasn't. Here are rules I want him to observe: 1. No reckless gambling. 2. No illicit board of trade speculation. 3. No endowments to institutions of any character, because these money does not deserve to live.
4. No indiscriminate giving away of funds. By that I don't mean him to be stingy. I hate a stingy man, and so did J. T. S. 5. No more than ordinary distinction. I have a suit. So did J. T. S.
And both of us moved an out or two. 6. No excessive donations to charity. If he gives as other millionaires do, I'll let it go at that. Don't believe charity can be spoiled by indulgence. It is not easy to spend a million, and I won't be unreasonable with him. Let him spend it freely, but not foolishly, and get his money's worth out of it. If he does that I'll consider him a good business man. I regard him foolish to slip water more than dollar, and car parts does not deserve to live.
He does not earn more than one. If he wants to try for this big stake, he'd better begin quick, because he must slip up to the walls until day of judgment. It's less than year off. Luck in him. Will write you more fully.
S. JONES.

"Write more fully," echoed Montgomery. "What can there be left to write about?"

"He is explicit," said the attorney,
"but it is best to know all the conditions before you decide. Have you made up your mind?"

Brewster sat silent for a long time, staring hard at the floor. A great struggle was going on in his mind.

"It's a gamble, and a big one," he said at last, shaking his shoulders,
"but I'll take it. I don't want to appear dishonored to my grandfather, but I think that even he would advise me to accept. Yes, you may write Mr.
Jones that I accept the chance."

"So attorneys complimented him on his nerve and wished him success.
He was favored with a smile.

"I'll begin by asking you what you think a reasonable fee for an attorney is in a case of this kind. I hope you will act for me."

"You don't want to spend it all in a lump, do you?" asked Mr. Grant, smiling. "We can hardly get us composed for both you and Mr. Jones."

"But I must have a lawyer, and he will limit the number of my conditions. What am I to do?"

"We will consult Mr. Jones in regard to the question. It is not regular, you see, but I apprehend no legal difficulties. We cannot accept fees from both sides, however," said Mr. Grant.

"But I want attorneys who are willing to help me. It won't be a help if you decline to accept my money."

"We'll resort to arbitration," laughed
Ripley.

Before night Montgomery Brewster began a career that would have stirred the world had the facts been known. With true loyalty to the little Sons of the Rich, he asked his friends to dinner and opened their eyes.

"Champagne!" cried Harrison as they were seated at table. "I can't remember the last time I had champagne."

"Naturally," laughed Subway Smith.
"You couldn't remember anything after that."

As the dinner progressed Brewster explained that he intended to double his fortune within a year. "I'm going to have some fun, too," he said,
"and you boys are to help me."

Nipper Harrison was employed as "superintendent of affairs," Elen Gardner as financial secretary, Joe Bragdon as private secretary, Subway Smith as counsel, and there were places in view for the other members.

"I want the smartest apartment you can find, Nipper," he commanded.
"Don't stop at expense. Have it all redecorated from top to bottom. Get the best servants you can find. I'm going to live, Nipper, and hang the consequences."

GOOD HEALTH IS ESSENTIAL

TO EVERY FORM OF USEFUL-NESS.

Will the sale of Payne's Remedies reach the same astonishing figures in Paducah as in other cities?

This is the question being asked by people who have closely followed the work of Payne in this city, and apparently the answer is being found in the record the remedies are making.

Although it has been several weeks since the preparations were first introduced in Paducah, the public interest is increasing and crowds in which almost every class of citizens is represented visit Smith & Nagel's drug store daily to talk with Payne.

What is a Dollar

Compared With Good Health?
Mrs. Grinnell called and expressed her thanks and said: "For ten years I have been a great sufferer from Catarrh. My sense of smell was gone, I could not rest well at night, and was always tired when I got up in the morning. I had a dull, heavy headache. My head was stopped up and the mucus from the head dropped into the throat, and I would cough up great chunks of phlegm."

"I used one bottle of the Payne's New Discovery and I was surprised at the result. My head was cleared at once, my sense of smell was restored as if by magic and my sleep is now sound and refreshing."

Not only do people like Mrs. Payne, about these cases, but each mail brings written statements of the character to Smith & Nagel's drug store, and it is said that the remedies are becoming as popular throughout the state as they are in this city.

Conductor W. Y. Hansbro, of the Fulton and Louisville accommodation run, says that the old "way down east" style of talking is not in it with the typical Kentucky dialect found among some of the ignorant class of backwoods people.

This morning at a small station near Mayfield two aged women stood by the platform as the train pulled by. One was sending the other away and placed her in charge of the conductor with minute instructions.
As the conductor waved his signal to the engineer to pull out, the attendant pulled at the conductor's sleeve and added further orders.

"Now look after her good," she commanded. "You see she ain't peart; likely to get plumb down sick afore yer git there because she ain't peart."

"I put that instruction down in my note book," Conductor Hansbro declared "and will add it to my collection. It certainly is a typical dialect of the back woods people."

loss will aggregate $3,000. Mr. Las-

LEG BROKE OFF

AND FLEW UP AND STRUCK AN AGED NEGRESS IN BACK.

Remarkable Case at Wickliffe That Is Destined to Puzzle the Medical Fraternity.

Attorney J. R. Gogan, who for several years practiced medicine, returned from Wickliffe this morning after a business trip to that city, bringing with him news of an accident which probably has not an equal in medical history of Kentucky.

An aged negress, said to be 100 years old was walking along when one of her legs snapped off, and flew up and struck her in the back. When she discovered what had happened, she picked up the limb and crawled to her bed. The breaking was not accompanied by any pain and the case is possibly without a parallel.

"The circuit clerk, Mr. Henderson, is writing the matter up for one of the medical records and has a stenographic report of the negro's state-

WICKLIFFE AGAIN HAS SAFE BLOWING

Robbers Visit the Boyd & Son Drug Store.

Demolished the Safe But Got Only $30 in Cash and an $800
Note.

LEFT NO CLUE BEHIND THEM.

Wickliffe, Ky., Nov. 3.—No trace of the burglars who robbed the safe in the George C. Boyd and Son drug store at Wickliffe, Ky., has been discovered.

The robbers demolished the safe with nitro-glycerine and secured its contents, $30 in money and a note for $800. A good deal of damage was done to the fixtures and many bottles of expensive drugs were broken.

Wickliffe has experienced several successful raids of bank robbers and safeblowers the past several years. The bank of that city has been robbed twice in the last five years.

The last visit of safeblowers to this city was made Tuesday morning. The men gained an entrance by breaking out a rear window of the drug store.

The robbery was not discovered until the store was opened later in the morning. The wrecked interior and broken bottles was the first evidence of the burglars which met the eyes of the clerk.

The safe was found as it had fallen its cracked and warped sides having crumbled to the floor in each direction.

The explosion was heard by several people, but no one thought enough of the noise to investigate the cause of the trouble.

VIGOROUS PROTEST

Is Being Made by the Liquor Dealers.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 3.—The ruling of John W. Yerkes, commissioner of internal revenue, to the effect that a special tax must be paid on packages of liquor shipped C. O. D. in the name of the shipping firm is causing a vigorous protest from liquor dealers. The dealers in Louisville and elsewhere have called to their aid the National Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association. M. M. Hough, of St. Louis, who is attorney for the association, has the matter in charge.

The liquor dealers claim the ruling works a hardship, as, under its provisions, it assesses what is practically a prohibitive tax.

In a majority of instances firms ship liquor to a destination, usually a "dry" town, consigned to themselves. Sight drafts are attached to the bill of lading and the goods are delivered when the draft has been paid to the bank or individual making the collection.

Commissioner Yerkes' ruling constrains that shipments of the nature referred to is technically a sale at the destination. Shippers are devising a method to overcome the ruling, and some are sending goods in the name of the purchaser, stamping the bill of lading, "not to be delivered until paid for."

Hotel Has Close Call.

The Union Central Hotel at 1115 and Broadway, was damaged by fire this morning shortly after 1 o'clock to the extent of several thousand dollars. The origin of the fire is unknown and before discovered several rooms downstairs and above, and in the attic, were enveloped in flames. Several narrow escapes by roomers were reported but all got out without serious injury.

Shortly after 1 o'clock Mrs. K. B. Harvey, who manages the hotel for Capt. Wm. Parham, who leased the hotel sometime ago, was awakened by terrible heat and smoke. She groped about until she found the door and when she opened it a mass of flames swept into her room. She ran out and raised a general alarm. Her daughters, Misses Bertie and Nerva Glass, were sleeping in a room adjoining the kitchen where the fire evidently originated and escaped by running through the fire.

When the first alarm last night was sounded the Nos. 3 and 4 departments responded, but when the alarm from box 53 came in, the No. 4 department was turned back without unwinding hose, leaving the No. 3 to fight the hotel fire. The Nos. 12 and 1 departments went to the second alarm.

The hotel is a frame structure and was afire in the walls, attic, kitchen and several rooms up and downstairs and the firemen got on the roof and drenched the building. The damage to the building will amount to about $1,000 it is estimated. It is the property of Loeb-Bloom & Co. and fully covered by insurance.

The hotel was leased by Wm. Parham who is in Anderson, Ind., and was run by Mrs. Harvey. The furnishings were totally ruined by the water and will be a total loss. Mr. Harvey carries $1,000 insurance, not enough to cover the damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Glass, who sleep in the rear of the hotel, were awakened by smoke and had to run through the flames. They escaped with a scorching.

The origin of the fire is unknown and the flames had greatly spread before discovered. The firemen think it must have been burning half an hour before discovered.

The hotel has been put completely out of business and Capt. Parham has been telegraphed and will probably return at once to adjust matters.
